Titled, “Security That’s Transforming Hollywood: The Little Cinema Digital Story,” the online event serves as an opportunity for attendees to learn how Verimatrix and Little Cinema Digital collaborated to transform the traditional Hollywood movie premiere business into an immersive virtual event platform that breaks down traditional limitations of venue capacities or locations. By leading with security, the company has been able to elevate and amplify these hybrid events by satisfying the highest security requirements mandated by studios and television networks.

In November 2020, Verimatrix first announced that New York-based Little Cinema deployed Verimatrix Watermarking and Multi-DRM technologies for its virtual premieres and previews – fulfilling enhanced protection requirements for its high-value, early-release content via Verimatrix and its Secure Cloud.
